Board Meeting!
September 27th, 2026
Anderson 310

- Attendance
    - Leo
    - Sam
    - Stephen
    - Tim
    - Kenneth
    - Me, but I don't matter. :)
    - Ehren will be late. (He showed up 20 minutes late. L)
        - SHAME!
            - We shall burn down Anderson in his stead.
                - It's what he would have wanted.
    - Matt
        - But he's late, because it's his "Birthday", or whatever
            - FOR SHAME
                - An MJ Quote for his birthday
                    - "Success can never justify your behavior"
- Past Events
    - Board Game Night
        - Insane attendance
            - 22 People!
        - Pizza does wonders
            - We ate 4 pizzas. Completely.
            - We got a buy 1 get 1 deal at Papa Johns.
                - And did this twice.
            - There was some discussion on what Pizza was best, and if to get cheaper pizza later. We'll see.
        - Aladdin 3 was watched after.
            - It was "Special"
        - After Aladdin 3, the genesis version of Aladdin was played, and it went to like 2 AM.
    - Open Lab
        - It went. Turned into impromptu video game night
        - Well attended,
            - Around 10.
        - Felt pretty much like the other ones that we've been holding, so that's cool.
    - Side note: Archipelago went as Archipelago does

            - Lots of crashing out and way too many items going to Dark Souls
            - There were 10 people participating.
                - And this is without us really advertising it.
            - Maybe in the future, we should split into two groups?
                - If we get more than 8 people, perchance.
        - MJ Isn't coming. : (
            - So, we will have an MJ quote in his stead.
- Future Events
    - Open Lab will happen
        - Shocker. It happens every week!
            - Wild. I never would have considered it.
        - It goes from 7 to late, so I guess the informal end is 8:30.
    - "Alumni Open Lab"
        - This Saturday, for Mel Weekend
        - Do we want to do something slightly more exciting than an open lab that weekend
            - "CIF Lab Extravaganza"?
                - Not this. But it would be funny.
            - "CIF Lab Expo" 👍
            - "THE CIF OPEN lab"
            - "The CIF Experience"
                - We hire professional clowns for the lab
                    - Matt is a professional clown
        - This would be our first weekend without an event
        - Worth noting that we're not going to be putting much effort into it.
    - Looking at the calendar, we don't have anything on October 24th.
        - Would be nice to have something once a week?
            - It is possible that this past week was a fluke, especially with the Pizza.
        - Maybe have some more focused events, where we focus on one game?
            - This seems like it would lock it down, and isn't really scaleable.
        - Movie night?
            - This could be fun.
                - But, what movie?
                    - Mario Galaxy movie?
                    - FNAF Movie 2?
        - Leo missed a shot throwing away an apple across the room. For shame.
    - CCC
- AIF's Warning
    - ResLife seems to be in a bad mood about disciplinary actions in their constitutions (Seemingly since there are constitutions that ResLife believes are in service, which were never ratified)
        - "Don't shake the lightbulb"
- Collabs

    - WiCMiC
        - I asked them to extend the event to give more breathing room
            - Consider it extended to 90 minutes - 2 hours.
        - Alumni– Keep trying.
            - Asked Kestor to talk - not interested
            - Ask Fenway?
                - Our next bet.
            - Sarah Melnik
                - An Alumni from many moons ago.
                - Never done a technical interview.
            - JA
                - We don't know if he's still in the area.
            - JNS
                - On a business trip.
            - Maybe old alumni from many moons ago could do a virtual talk.interview?
            - Ask Greene Center if they'd be willing to help?
    - Baja
        - No news
    - MIF - website go brrrr
        - They have added quite a bit to their website, and it's live!
            - They thanked us for hosting it for them.
        - They fixed the applied button.
    - CSUG
        - No news
    - CubeSat
        - Still need to decide what to do and email them
            - What ARE we doing for cubesat?
                - Running a social-type event?
                    - Trivia Night?
                        - On technical history?
                    - Cooking event?
                - We should be fine to provide food, economics-wise.
            - They have "15 max active members, maybe 20", according to Stephen's friend.
                - So 8 people might show up.
    - SIH Event.
        - That's still a thing that is happening in December.
        - This is "future Ehren"'s problem.
            - It's in the "We should do this event" stage, so nothing much logistical has been planned.
- Membership applications
    - All caught up!
        - YAYAYAYAYYAYYYYYYAAAAAYYY!

    - Should send a second follow up to the one guy
        - This is an Ehren problem. I'm making Ehren do it. No one can stop me.
    - We're happy with everything :)
- Money
    - Presently the only way to ask for a reimbursement is in relation to an event.
        - This is stupid, and seems like an oversight.
    - So, for the people who already bought things for the lab already (Or like furniture or something), you will have to wait a hot second to get reimbursed. : (
- Dues update?
    - Some people have not paid yet.
        - 7 people still
            - Some of these people probably won't pay, but some of them will.
    - Matt, can you email the people who haven't paid yet to remind them dues are due in a week?
        - Thus, it will be done.
    - After dues are deposited, we will have a lot of money. We should spend some of it.
        - Let's make a list for quality-of-life stuff and give it to Matt.
            - Thus, it will be done.
            - Ticket to ride? Maybe board Games can be added to the list?
- Stephen wants to borrow board games?
    - Thanks Ehren, I would like to borrow some board games (TBD) for the evening of 10/5 they'd be gone for like 2 hours
        - Yes.
            - Just like… don't destroy them or anything.
- TechnomalogicallymagicallyallyamagimagicaltechnolomagicalmysticallytechnologicalmysticalmagicaltechmologicaltranscendentlysupernaturaltechnologymolyMmmmbeanstechnologybrotherprinterneedstodieologysticalocialbrothermakessharpeners updates
    - MIF.cif.rochester.edu
        - It exists now.
    - We got more stuff from Hutch, so that's pretty cool.
    - The Sustainability E-Waste day is happening pretty soon
        - It's probably too late to attempt to go through this.
    - NetBSD is being installed on the Pentium 4.
        - So that it can be a netboot server for our other netboot server.
            - Frankly, I love NetBSD.
                - It's the second greatest operating system of all time, after Arch Linux.
                    - I will be running more NetBSD. It's so good.
    - The Fire Page works on the WII Internet channel.
        - Pretty cool.
- It was at this point that it was announced that Open Lab has made it into CCC 🎉
